THE NORSO DINING COLLECTION

The Danes are known for their strength of character and design influence and this can be very much seen in our Norso range of dining furniture which we've accompanied with the equally impressive Hank chair. Norso offers simple clean lines and stylish design. The Norso table and bench have solid oak legs with oak veneer tops. Adding to their design is a black steel connector under both the table and bench. The table can be extended using an extension leaf and be styled further with the use of the Hank black lacquered dining chair. Other chairs will also suit this design.
